Wilton: Annexati[illegible]overload

by GLORIA DAVIS
Lakeland Newspapers

Does the fact that the Village of Antioch has more than doubled its size in the last year with all the property that has been annexed, mean an overloading of the village's services and the school system?

After another village board meeting during which the board dealt with more annexation requests, Mayor Robert Wilton said, "Most of the newly annexed properties will not have village sewers and water, but they will come under the protection of the Antioch Police Dept. now instead of the Lake County Sheriff's Dept."

"The fact that they were already in the Antioch school districts means that there will be no additional load on the school system," he added.

"It's an even trade, the village will get additional property taxes and the property owners will get the better representation that comes from being a part of a village instead of being out in the county," said Wilton.

"We are looking to annex only property that has a low density," added Wilton.

At the meeting on Monday, the public hearing on the pre-annexation agreement of the Little-Dean property, 66 acres on the north side of the street, east of Sequoit Creek, was rescheduled to 7 p.m., on Monday, Aug. 7.

The developers are asking to zone 55 acres for manufacturing and 11 acres for business.

The hearing on a zoning change for the Cunningham property on Anita St., 34 lots scheduled to have a duplex built on each acre-lot, has also been set for Aug. 7.

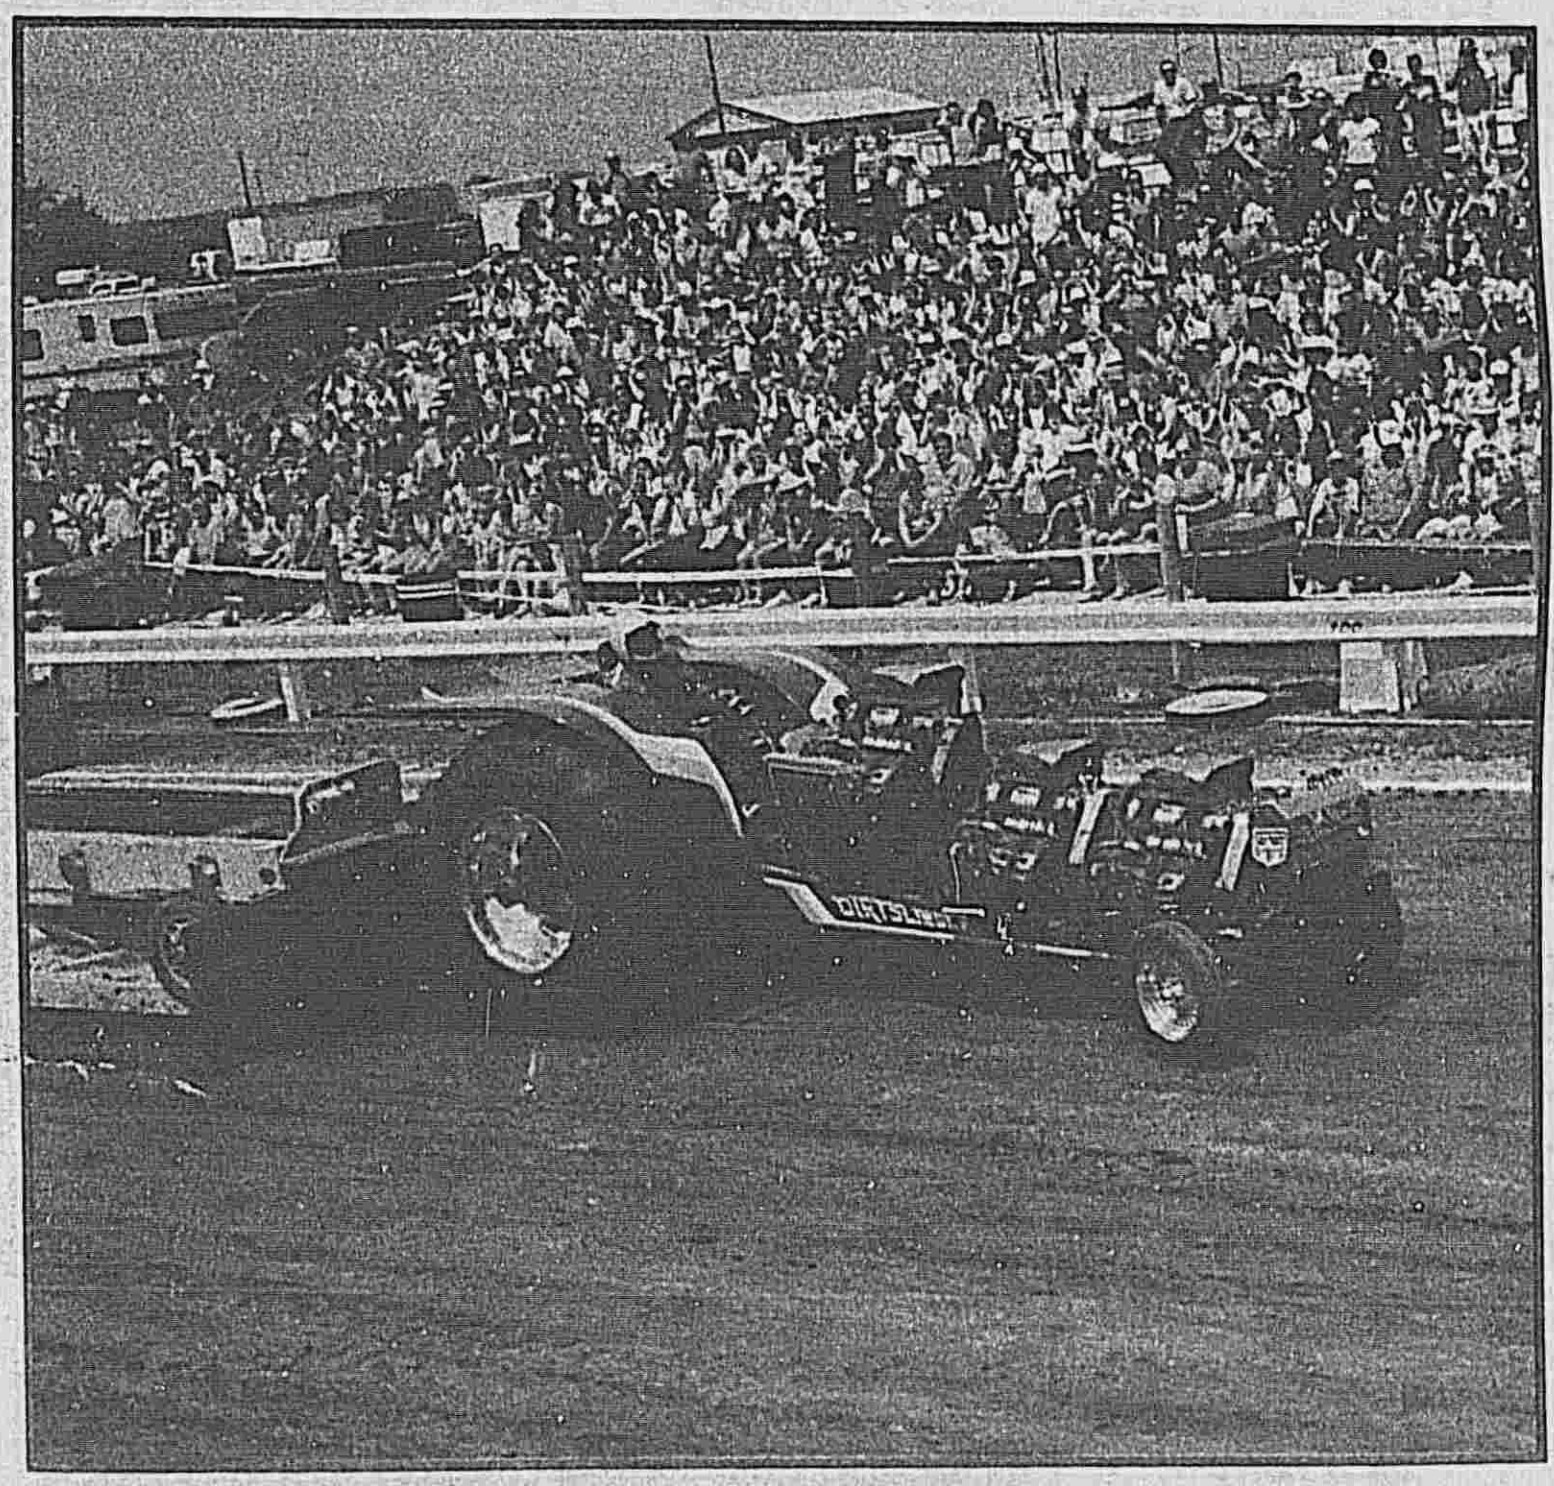

The planning commission and the zoning board have already approved the request to change the zoning of the entire acreage to R4. It is now up to the village board.

The owners of other properties in the township requesting annexation into the village include the land at Deep Lake Rd. and Rte. 173. The owners, who intend to build an AMOCO service station there, are petitioning to have the property rezoned for business; Christian Life Fellowship Church on Deep Lake Rd. off of Rte. 173 is also asking to annex the four, one-acre lots, to the village.

In other business, the board:

— heard about the overall county solid waste problems from a representative of the Lake County Solid Waste Commission.

— decided to put-off a discussion on the proposed new fire inspector until the committee meeting on Monday.

Fire Dist. tax up 33%

Residents of the First Fire Protection Dist. of Antioch will see a 33 percent increase in the fire district's levy on their tax bills, if the assessed valuation remains the same.

At a hearing on the adoption of an aggregate levy in the amount of more than 105 percent of the property taxes extended upon last year's levy, the board approved the levy increase.

The levy will be $503,450, a 33 percent increase over last year's levy of $378,779.50.

The purchase of a custom-built pumper tanker, that pumps 1,250 gallons of water per minute and has a six-man command cab, at the cost of $198,409 is the reason for the tax increase.

The fire protection district has $50,000 set aside for the tanker and the levy increase will raise the remaining $148,000. The tanker is set to arrive in Antioch early next year.

Helping young parents is new task of CES

by KIM BOLTON
LAKELAND NEWSPAPERS

The Lake County Extension Service is embarking on a new program to reduce teenage pregnancy and alleviate the problems facing adolescent and female-headed households.

Irene Green, home economist and 17-year veteran of the Extension Service in Grayslake, is the local figurehead for the program which is one of seven national initiates being made by extension services across the country. The underlying purpose of the program is to help young people realize that they have a future in which they will need skills and gainful employment. The Extension Service hopes that the belief in a bright future will help young people decide to delay parenting.

"Our part of it is more educational. We hope to help younger people think well of themselves and see what they do have," Green said.

The Univ. of Ill. Cooperative Extension Service hosted a conference in the spring called 'Kids Having Kids—Youth at Risk.' The conference featured speakers and workshops on teenage pregnancy and the risks involved, teenage parents, ethics, conflicts, outreach programs, sex, drugs and AIDS.

A member of the conference planning committee, Green plans to take what she learned at the conference and implement it into the program in Lake County. She has been collecting information and visual aids on the topics discussed at the conference and said that she plans to get a mailing list of young mothers together so that information on caring for their babies and themselves will be passed on.

Green said there is a real need for outreach programs aimed at adolescents in Lake County. The pregnancy rate for teenage girls is 8.7 percent in the county. In the state of Illinois, 12.5 percent of all live births are to teens.

The Univ. of Ill. Extension Service realizes, according to Green, that it doesn't have the personnel to counsel adolescents on birth control and the decision to have a baby, but it is able to counsel young people on how to take care of babies when they are born.

The Extension Service hopes to give the young people the support necessary to instill a sense of self-worth and accomplishment. As a result, Green hopes young parents will learn to take care of their babies so that the children are not at a high risk and that birth rates will go down since the odds of having a second child are very high for teens with one baby.

The Kids Having Kids Conference featured three nationally-known experts in the subject of teenage pregnancy.

William J. McGanity, a member of the experts committee of the Intl. Nutrition Advisory Group on Maternal Nutrition Anemia for the World Health Organization said that younger mothers who were late bloomers are more at risk when having babies. He said teenage mothers don't eat

Growth creates need for more precincts

"Lake County is growing," notes Lake County Linda Hess. For the first time in many years, more precincts will be added to Lake County--nine to be exact--increasing the total from 393 to 402.

"We are still way behind Cook County with 2,000 plus precincts and DuPage County with more than 600 precincts, but we remain the third largest county in Illinois, and we're growing," said Hess.

"Under certain circumstances election law allows the County Board to adjust precinct boundaries at its June meeting. One June 12, the Lake County Board voted to split nine precincts to make an additional nine precincts and change the boundaries of six others in order to make them more manageable. All the precincts involved had more than 1,100 votes and were not easily manageable for election judges on election day," Hess continued.

Besides making the election judges job easier on election day, making these changes will make it easier and more convenient for the voter, she added.

The precincts that were split to make new ones are as follows:

Pct. 105 split to create Pct. 397
Pct. 395 split to create Pct. 396
Pct. 176 split to create Pct. 398
Pct. 180 split to create Pct. 399
Pct. 183 split to create Pct. 400
Pct. 223 split to create Pct. 401
Pct. 235 split to create Pct. 402
Pct. 245 split to create Pct. 403
Pct. 258 split to create Pct. 404

The boundary lines for Libertyville Precincts 173 and 174 were adjusted, so some of the voters formerly in Precinct 174 will now be voting in Precinct 173. Precinct 174 had nearly 1,400 voters before the adjustment.

Precincts, 350, 351, 352 and 352 boundaries were adjusted to reflect as closely as possible the municipal ward boundaries of the City of Lake Forest. In doing so, each of these four precincts have a more equal distribution of voters, again making election day more pleasant for the voter and the election judge.

"Over 9,000 voters will be affected by the change," said Hess, "And all voters affected will be notified and receive a new voter identification card," she said.

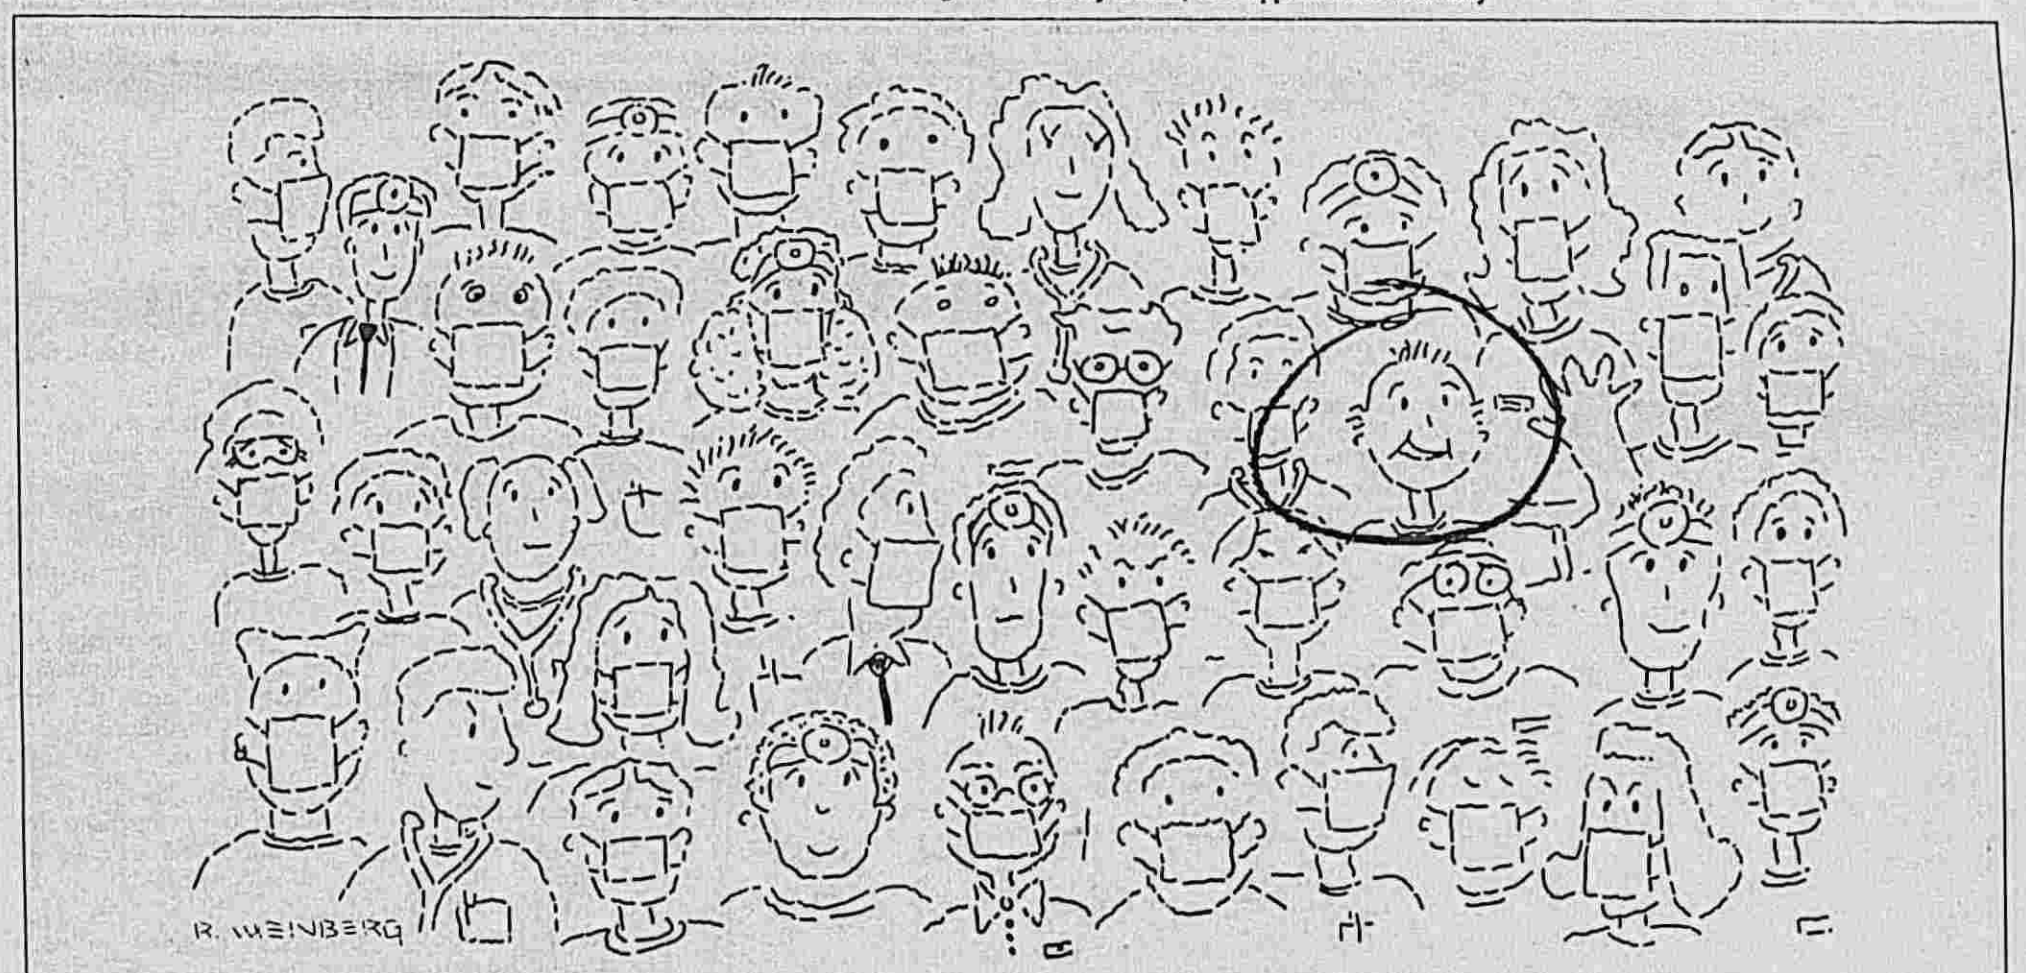

"In addition to voter notification, both Democratic and Republican central committee chairs have been notified of new precinct committeemen vacancies created by these additions. Similarly, 45 additional election judges will have to be recruited in the new precincts," added Hess.

"As is evident, adding new precincts can have a significant impact on the election process. Each new precinct requires a new precinct committeeman, five more election judges, possibly a new polling place; and of course, new election supplies," noted Hess.

"These are the hidden costs of elections that can increase costs rapidly if not held in check. This is why our office and the County Board, who approves the boundary changes, takes a conservative approach and is careful about adding new precincts. But people like what we have to offer in Lake County, and I'm sure we will have more precincts in the next few years," she concluded.

Millburn School Board of Education announced that the construction on the school building is nearly complete.

Board member Ray Boller said that final payment will be held until a few more items are complete.

"We got a good building for the money," Boller said.

District residents approved renovation and construction project through a referendum. A new gymnasium and a new library along with classrooms and other facilities were featured.

"It was a very successful program," Blockinger stated. The students studied reading and math skills in the state-funded program.

On other matters, Boller said the board is still searching for an office computer. :We should acquire a PC-6 to streamline our office procedures," stated Boller.

The monatary limit of the system is approximately $4,000.

The board also resolved to rent three of its classrooms to Special Education Dist. of Lake County (SEDOL) for $10,000 per room. In addition, the board authorized the district's Parents-Teachers Organization to use the building Nov. 4 for holiday and craft bazaar.

Art objects, antiques, boats, motors, automotive equipment, sporting goods, lawn and garden equipment and even horse-drawn buggies are usually among the items.

Groh sworn in as school board member

After administering the oath of office to Julie Groh as a new school board member, appointed upon the resignation of Mary Beth Walsh, the Grass Lake School Board of Education established a committee to organize the volunteer program for the 1989-90 school year. They also discussed the need for guidelines of the operation of the "haunted house." The PTO will present their proposed guidelines at the August meeting.

In other business, the board:

- established the working cash fund.
- established the first Tuesday of the month at 7 p.m. at Grass Lake School as the time and location of regular school board meetings.
- employed Thomas C. Bainbridge as a 60-percent time music teacher for the 1989-90 school year. (Bainbridge will work 40 percent of the time at Lotus School).

The board also officially announced the filing date for nominating papers for the Nov. 7 school board election is Aug. 21 - 28 at Grass Lake School.

Sue Anderson was appointed as the board secretary's designee to accept nominating papers. Sept. 6 at 10 a.m. in the superintendent's office is the date, time and place of the ballot placement lottery, should there be two or more simultaneously filed petitions.

After a discussion, the board authorized the superintendent, Anthony Prezeklasa, to make necessary reservations for the board's attendance at the Illinois Assn. of School Boards Convention in Chicago on Nov. 17 19.

In final moves, the board approved policies 270.06 and 270.07 on closed meetings and minutes of closed meetings;

Old big city girl likes being hick

Don't forget to pick up your bargains at the annual Maxwell Street Days in downtown Antioch. The dates for Maxwell Street Days are July 27 through July 30. Also the Lions Club Chicken Bar-B-Q and Auction will be held on Aug. 6 at William Park. This event will begin at 11 a.m. and run until 6 p.m.

I have a confession to make, when I moved from the big city of Chicago to Antioch mega years ago, I often thought to myself "my goodness, Lizard, what did you get yourself into!" How could I ever survived with small town country hick people and small town country hick shops, and above all without the CTA.

Well, it's amazing how times and circumstances can change a person. Now I am the biggest small town country hick around and I might add "extremely" proud of it. All it takes is a parade to make me see the virtues of small town living. I am sure I am not the only one who gets caught up in the security of knowing so many nice people in and about town.

This year, I went to the Fourth of July parade with part of my family and a good fired of mine from the city. It provided an excellent opportunity to introduce my "infamous" friend, Sylvia Vaughan, to many of my Antioch friends. As soon as we got out of our car we posted the familiar face of Ardeen Harris toting her cameras in order to get pictures of hubby, Jim, in the parade.

Then we ran into several others positioning themselves in their favorite spots to view the festivities - Julie Groh, Cindy and Scott Marquart and their two little boys, Marie Brausam, and Steve, Sandy and Cathy Chinn.

I was finally lucky to meet pretty little three year old Bonnie Henning for the first time as she enjoyed the parade with her mom, Cheryl, and dad Wally. Once the parade began, I was amazed as to how many friends and acquaintances I recognized in the parade itself.

Judy Hansen, Little Ryan Hansen looked so sweet peddling that little airplane bearing the "Hansen Custom Cabinets" logo. Mary Christine Boerman, and Sara Elizabeth Groh looked thrilled to be waving to everyone as contestants from the Little Miss Antioch contest.

Claudette Skvarce was definitely enjoying her job of handing out miniature American Flags to all the parade observers, and the lawn chair brigade was too special for words. Pat Sikorski looked dapper in his antique car, and Mary Ann Lauer looked good in her classic red Mustang convertible.

Later that evening, it was nice seeing Susie Steiskal at the fireworks display. Susie is a former graduate of GLS and ACHS. She is presently a student at Northern University in DeKalb, and I might add as pretty and sweet as ever. She reminded me of the recent weddings of many of her close Antioch friends - Nancy Bielawski, Suzette Samson, and Sue Lengvenis. I also met up with Clara Haling searching the many faces in the crowd for some friends she was scheduled to meet. Clara is an officer for AARP and proudly declared the Antioch AARP received an award for their participation in the parade.

Hometown Goodies

Liz Schmehl

Yes, it is definitely nice living in a small town. No one is ever truly alone. It is a rare happening to ever enter our "Hometown" and not meet up with at least six familiar faces - even when there is no parade and fireworks to unite us all. Guess what? I can't believe I use to live in Chicago.

Speaking of parades, boy does Marie Brausam have an idea for the next Antioch Parade. When you see, her tell you want to join the parade with her. I guarantee you that you will be in for the experience of a lifetime.

Someone I know is turning the big "40" in August. I will not release her name at this time but when I make mention of my August birthdays I'll make sure she gets the recognition she deserves. So keep reading this column, "J.G." and soon everyone in Antioch will know your correct age!

Dan Filips finally caught his first fish on his new bright and shiny fishing pole. Granted it was only a carp, but it put up a good fight and beggars can't be choosers. If you were to discuss this happening with John Vaughan, you'd soon discover that John would be more than happy to land a carp. It seems that no matter where he fishes, nor what equipment he uses, nor how often he tries, John just can't catch fish. All I can say is keep trying, John - sooner or later the odds will have to be in your favor!

What's this I hear about you, Cindy Marquart? You are actually worried about what the Lizard would put into print concerning your "very" late morning attire on the particular day in June? Have no fear, I would never write anything "negative" about a person - well almost never. Hey, girl, it is a free country and if you are comfortable in PJs that late in the day, who am I to tease you about the time of day. Incidentally, Cindy, many times and I mean many, you will find the Lizard in the same predicament. Enjoy life, that's what it is about and taking time out to smell the roses and relax a little is very important to us all. Now that wasn't so bad was it. Just remember to call me with some tidbits, at least you can tell me the birth dates of your two precious little boys.

Now I know I am getting old. Recently a friend from my past stopped by to show off her beautiful family. Liz Flores is only a year or two older than my oldest daughter Donna. It seems it was only yesterday that I use to watch her, her sisters, and my oldest girls relaxing together at the beach, etc. Now Liz has four beautiful boys of her own, seven year old Justin, five year old Christopher, two year old Andrew and six month old Brandon. Liz recently moved back to the Grass Lake area and her children will be attending Grass Lake School just as she and her sisters and brothers did. It was nice seeing you again, Liz, remember to call with your tidbits.

Recently little 13-month old Jeffie Pierce walked under the sprinkler in the back yard. Momma, Cindy, got a little worried that he would get scared so she scampered after him. However, she was in for a surprise. He enjoyed it so much that he went back again and again and really protested when she tried to dry him off. I guess this proves that even babies know how to keep cool on these hot summer days.

No more to write this week. Remember to call me with your summertime tidbits, and when you do "Remember to ask for the Lizard!!"

Maki says confidence brings success

by KIM BOLTON
LAKELAND NEWSPAPERS

Leaving a secure job to start his own construction company was a daring move for John Maki in 1981, but one that proved successful.

A resident of Lindenhurst since the mid-70s, Maki is now the owner of two Antioch companies—Maki Construction and Maki and Assoc. Heating and Air Conditioning, Inc.—both of which he built from the ground up in only eight years.

After starting the company out of his home during a downswing in the economy, and working at the construction sites, Maki now has 40 employes on the payroll, including the manager of Maki Heating and Air Conditioning, Vic Olsen.

Maki said leaving his job of 15 years with Olsen Woodworking in Chicago (no relation to Vic Olsen) was very difficult financially and would have been impossible had he been married at that time. He cut his salary as a superintendent of high rise and commercial buildings in half, but did it to spend more time with his two children, John and Janelle, after he gained custody of them in a divorce suit.

"It was real tough. I don't think if I was married at the time I'd have been able to make it," Maki said.

Maki started slowly by word of mouth. An industrious man, he had built his Lindenhurst home alone by working nights and weekends for a year. Knowing his qualifications, his associates helped him by giving a good reference to interested parties, both private and commercial. He said in the beginning, he did whatever jobs he could find. His first was at Camp Ravenswood YMCA where a car had ran into a building.

When Maki reached a point where he was out of work, he decided to plunge back in and build a spec house. It sat for nine months before finally being sold.

"That was kind of disastrous," Maki said.

But, finally he got his big break. Nankin Express Chinese Fast Food was coming to Chicagoland and Maki's company won the construction bid on a prototype restaurant in Joliet. Shortly afterward, Maki Construction built the Boston Sea Party in Morton Grove.

The Nankin Express didn't make it, but Maki did.

He started doing more and more homes, and less and less small jobs. Much of his work was done in the north shore area, which give him his 15 minutes of fame—one of his houses was on the news and one made it into Time magazine. In both instances, Maki regretted that his sign wasn't visible and said he should have one on each side of his homes.

The spot on the news wasn't exactly the type of advertisement Maki was after.

A boy who wanted revenge against his mother, a real estate agent, set one of Maki's Winnetka homes on fire as he was doing to many homes in the town. The boy's actions made the Chicago news and Maki's burning house was used as a background drop while the story was reported.

Today the homes Maki builds are categorized as move-up and luxury. He also does some commercial work.

Maki says that 99 percent of his homes are bought before construction begins and his crew usually works on 10 projects in different construction phases at a time.

One of Maki's current projects is his own dream house. He is building the ranch with a walk out to the water on Crooked Lake and says it has generated a lot of interest in the area because of its design which, he says, is different because the home is built on angles. Maki designed the home by himself and said he put a lot of thought into it.

Up until now, Maki says all he did was work, although he has been a member of the same golf league for 14 years. But now that he's got his dream house on the Chain 'O Lakes, he'd like to spend more time on recreation with his two children and the family's boat.

Maki said he always wanted to own his own business. His dad was a carpenter in Skokie where Maki grew up and his father-in-law, with whom he was very close, owned a commercial roofing business.

He said being successful in his business came from staying confident. He learned in a business class at CLC that most start-up businesses fail, but the business owners who make it do it with faith in themselves.

Maki said his staff is important to him. He treats his employees with respect, and expects them to do the same.

"What we try to do is a good job at reasonable prices. We try to treat customers and employes honestly and fairly. That's what we expect in return," Maki said.

Working together

If alcohol or drug abuse has taken your teen out of touch, we're within reach.

A free, confidential consultation is just a phone call away.

Often, it begins innocently. Experimenting with drugs. Beer parties after football games. It's no one's fault—but, somehow things have gotten out of hand and your teenager is out of touch.

The fact is, substance abuse is often only a symptom of a deeper emotional problem. Professionals at the Saint Therese Adolescent Treatment Center know this—and have developed the only program in the area where your son or daughter can receive help in overcoming a drug or alcohol problem while also receiving psychiatric treatment for the underlying emotional dilemma.

CALL THE ADOLESCENT TREATMENT CENTER 360-2720

The program has been developed specifically for adolescents and their special problems—and is not an adult program that has simply been adapted for teens. This comprehensive program not only helps your son or daughter, but also provides the support your entire family may need to become united once again.

Deciding to get professional help is never easy. But, if you suspect your teen has a problem, call us today to set up a free, private consultation—or to simply ask questions. It may be the most important phone call you'll ever make.

Lake County—hot spot for home buyers

Residential property values in Lake County have jumped in the last few years, as the area becomes a hot spot for home buyers.

"The boom in Lake County was kicked off by a pent-up demand, and will continue despite a general softening in the rest of the Chicago-area market," predicts Eve B. Lee, exclusive broker for several Lake County developments, including Daybreak Farm in Libertyville.

According to county assessor statements, residential property values rose by 11 percent in Lake County, as compared to 6 percent in DuPage, between 1987 and 1988.

Unlike the frenzied building in other areas, the Lake County boom is one of planned growth.

"Lake County residents have long been devoted to open space and discouraged increased development. Twenty-five years ago speculators predicted the area would undergo a "megalopolis effect" (a single metropolitan area extending from Chicago to Milwaukee). The Lake County open space advocates kept that from happening, though, through zoning and control of sewers and road improvements," according to Lee.

"The rural, suburban atmosphere is part of our appeal and was an integral component of the land development plan that was created in 1982 by the Lake County Planning Commission," says Lee, a member and past president.

According to Lee, Daybreak Farm is an example of the kind of development outlined by the commission. The Libertyville single-home community has open space within the development, as well as on its borders, with Libertyville Twp. open space on the south and the Lake County Forest Preserve to the west. Set on 88 acres of meadows, woods and fresh water ponds, Daybreak Farm offers one-acre-plus homesites for custom country estates.

Getting things started

With Western Development Corp. (WDC) officials along with Lake County elected leaders looking on, Gurnee Mayor Richard Welton, left and Herb Miller, chairman of the board of WDC, cut the ribbon for Gurnee Mills Wednesday at groundbreaking ceremony. The super regional mall will be located at Rte. 132 and Hunt Club Rd. in Gurnee.

'Funny business' can reduce stress

When tensions run high in the corporate world, savvy managers laugh it off.

That's the consensus from Adia Personnel Services, which surveyed 1,160 human resource professionals to determine what humorous practices companies use to relieve stress on the job, and whether any methods not currently in use would help boost morale.

Telling a joke to break the ice at a staff meeting is most common, with 77 percent of the total sample likely to use this form of humor to diffuse stress. Seventy-five percent encourage employees to display humorous cards, comic strips, etc., in their workspace.

Supervisors use humor to lighten deadline pressure in about half the companies surveyed (52 percent), while "laugh breaks" are popular with 39 percent.

Melting boundaries

Relocation of the Merchandise Group of Sears, Roebuck and Co. from Sears Tower to a 786-acre site in Hoffman Estates is expected to create development ripples—or shock waves, depending on your viewpoint—as far away as central Lake County, as 5,500 employes move into the area. Fortunately, the relocation won't begin until around 1992 so there will be plenty of time for preparations.

Besides imposing growth pressures in all directions, the impending Sears move is blurring the demarcation between city and suburbs. Hoffman Estate Village Manager Peter Burchard calls the phenomenon a "melting of boundary lines." Maybe so. Burchard sees complete integration of the metropolitan area. The village manager predicts a lessening of the adversarial role of city and suburbs, looking upon their relationship as working together and "feeding off each other."

The Sears move likely will accelerate another suburban phenomenon—creation of self-contained suburbs, or "suburbs within themselves." This has already happened in Schaumburg and Naperville. Hoffman Estates is positioning itself to become the next suburb that will spawn its own suburbs.

With this phenomenon taking place, we wonder if Lake County will be engulfed in the kind of growth that has resulted in high rise commercial centers in DuPage County and northwest Cook County? Is there a Naperville or a Schaumburg in our future?

'Short' two years

Republicans in the Illinois General Assembly will be chafing for a long time after getting a 20 percent income tax hike crammed down their throats. The temporary tax increase, supported by one GOP senator and only eight House Republicans, provides $257 million for elementary and secondary education and $106 million for higher education. It also provides $338 million for local governments.

State Sen. Jack Schaffer (R-McHenry County) probably is being unduly fretful when he expresses concern that municipalities and schools will become too dependent on the two-year measure. Most of the educators we're acquainted with are looking forward eagerly for the extra funds. Villages in this locality, whether the additional income is needed or not, will spend the "new" money, hopefully for a worthwhile purpose.

Schaffer has sounded an ominous note that some of the legislators voting for the tax increase "may not be here in 1991." To be sure, Republicans will take advantage of the opportunity to tell voters who was responsible for the income tax increase. Another political reality is that 1991 could see a new governor pledged to economy along with continued GOP pressure to direct new tax monies toward education.

In this light, it's good advice for villages not to rely too heavily on the additional tax income. Two years goes by pretty fast.

Politically Speaking

by Joseph Soulak
Lakeland Newspapers

Another great guy has bit the political dust. Bernard Vitek of Lindenhurst, a valuable member of the Lake County Board of Review for eight years, has been kicked off the job.

County Board Chairman Norman Geary replaced Vitek with Edward Gueroult Jr. of Round Lake, his running mate for assessor in an unsuccessful April election bid by the Avon Good Government Party. Gueroult has never served as an assessor or on a tax review board.

Geary says he wanted someone he knows and trusts on a board where he perceives some problems.

You bet there are going to be problems. Of the three-member body, only Chairman Austin Douglas of Lake Bluff has any board time to his credit—12 years to be exact. One other neophyte, former County Board member Millicent Berliant, came aboard June 1. With four township quadrennial assessments—Deerfield, West Deerfield, Ela and Vernon—to review this year, the inexperienced board has its work cut out.

Vitek knows his forced retirement was political. "I really had hoped to stick around a few more years," said the 69-year-old former Lake Villa Twp. assessor. Actually, this is his second retirement. He has been drawing a butcher's union pension since age 66 after 17 years at Dahlgaard's IGA in Lake Villa and 15 years at Bob Depke's Certified store in Gurnee.

Of all the Chicago collar counties, only Lake and Will will not have a new, local four-cent gas tax. For Lake County that means $10-million per year it won't get for road and highway improvements. The $700,000 the county now gets doesn't go as far as motorists would like, say county officials.

They blame state Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis (R-Zion) of the 31st Dist. She led Senate defeat of a bill this past session allowing Lake County to implement the added tax. Why? She doesn't like some of the policies of the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist., including the right of condemnation. She also feels Lake County has enough money for roads, highways and forest preserve purchases.

"Besides that, people are being taxed to death," the senator said. "We need fewer, not more taxes." Even a personal phone call from County Board Chairman Norman Geary and a visit from the Lake County lobbiest couldn't change Geo's mind.

"That lobbiest is the dumbest, most extravagant move in the world," she said of Chicago lawyer Andrew Raucci, who is paid $25,000 annually to grease the Springfield political machine.

Bernard Vitek

Adeline Geo-Karis

One person we're likely to hear more of is Thomas Ewing. The Pontiac state representative is minority leader of the Illinois House—Mike Madigan's counterpart, if you will.

After 15 years he wants a higher office, like that of Lt. Gov. George Ryan. Ewing is working the grass roots throughout the state in advance of next year's election.

I caught up with him at the annual golf outing of McHenry County and Illinois Republican Central Committee Chairman Al Jordan. After working closely with all legislators over the years, Ewing had something to say about each of them.

State Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis (R-Zion) of the 31st Dist: "I respect her. But talk about double dipping," he said about the lady who is also mayor of Zion and Vernon Hills village attorney.

State Rep. William Peterson (R-Prairie View) of the 60th Dist.: "I sit next to him on the floor. A quiet guy who gets things done."

State Rep. John Matijevich (D-North Chicago) of the 61st Dist.: "Almost every thing he does and says has political overtones."

State Rep. Robert Churchill (R-Lake Villa) of the 62nd Dist., who is also House minority whip: "Watch that man. He is going places."

Uzi era here; should we be included?

by BILL SCHROEDER

Ever since Laurie Dann went on her North Shore shooting and killing spree last fall, suburban police departments and citizens interested in local law enforcement have been mulling over a nagging problem: How much fire power should a suburban police department possess?

Winnetka Police Chief Herbert Timm's request to arm his men with semi-automatic handguns and Uzi submachine guns following the bizarre Dann incident has provided a capstone for the argument of how much weaponry is enough?

Unlike Winnetka, where a public debate on police department armor is ensuing, Fox Lake trustees voted unanimously without public input to purchase 18 sidearms of the latest design and two Uzis when requested. Mayor Frank Meier, a former state trooper, stated that the traditional six-shot service revolver is outmoded when battling modern crime. Trustee Kenneth Hamsher, police committee chairman, declared flatly, "Our men need more fire power." Two weeks later, two separate gun incidents in Fox Lake substantiated village board action, in Hamsher's opinion.

Chief Timm has stated publicly that Uzis are needed because new officers have difficulty training on shotguns, and because there have been several accidental discharges of shotguns in the village.

Libertyville and Mundelein police departments are two agencies which follow the traditional practice of having officers provide the sidearms of their choice. If there is such a thing as a department weapon, Mundelein Lt. Ronald Biese said, it is a Smith and Wesson Model 10 revolver. Libertyville department policy allows a six-shot revolver and/or double action, semi-automatic 9 mm. or .45 caliber sidearm. Antioch Police Chief Charles Miller said the department does not consider going to automatics or "exotic" weaponry like Uzis. Semi-automatics are optional for Antioch officers. "If we feel more firepower is needed than we possess, we'll call in a SWAT team," Chief Miller related.

While the use of deadly force is debated at high levels, citizen opinion hereabouts ranges from "give our cops what they need" to "no way, in our town." Opposition stems from fear of bystanders being struck by gunfire.

A retired police commander, who admitted to being opposed to semi-automatic and automatic weapons told this writer cryptically, "It really doesn't matter what kind of weapons you're talking about. If you can't make that first shot, you're in trouble." The veteran lawman conceded that officers should have modern weaponry at their disposal, but "the automatic stuff should be under lock and key in the department arsenal."

Our local police departments have been making great strides in professionalism and ability to cope with modern crime. Perhaps the day of the time-honored revolver has passed.

Film Review

In this season of a thousand sequels, most of them a waste of film and time, "Lethal Weapon II" emerges as possibly being better than the parent film.

From the slam bang opening, that leaves the audience breathless, to the final bit of explosive mayhem, this one may also be a slight bit more exciting than "Lethal Weapon." The relationship between gorgeous Mel Gibson and marvelous Danny Glover is as cohesive as it was in the first flick, but this time, there is much more congeniality with Gibson, no longer depressed about his wife's death, joking and smiling a lot.

When you start feeling guilty about enjoying all this violence, you might take into consideration that in this case, it's more like enjoying a fantasy since one could possibly survive the situations our two heroes get themselves into.

Gibson again chases the villains' car on a freeway on foot, ending up clinging to the car's grill as it careens through a busy intersection.

Another biggee is the survival of Gibson and his gorgeous paramour Joss Ackland, when the bad guys turn out the artillery and make Swiss cheese out of the trailer in which they are making love.

The success of "Lethal Weapon II," leads to predictions of either a "Lethal Weapon III," or "Son of Lethal Weapon I and II". Give this one four and one-half stars out of five.

Music

If you loved the Beatles, you might like this one. Ringo Starr and his all star band will be on stage at Poplar Creek in Hoffman Estates, the future home of Sears, at 8 p.m. on Tuesday, July 25. Featured in the band are Clarence Clemons, Nils Lofgren, Dr. John, Billy Preston, Jim Keltner, Levon Helm, Rick Danko and Joe Walsh.

The show to see at Poplar is the one slated for Sunday, July 23, when Tiffany and the great New Kids On the Block will be knocking the crowd dead.

In case you haven't heard, tickets went on sale last week for the appearance of Mick Jagger and the Rolling Stones out at Alpine, set for early this fall.

"A Salute to Gershwin," a collection of George and (sometimes) Ira Gershwin hits, featuring pianist Mary Ann McCurdy, can be seen and heard at the Wallace Bowl in Gillson Park, Wilmette, at 8 p.m., on Saturday, Aug. 19.

Be there

During the entire month of July, the Studio in the Woods, on Fairfield Rd. in Wauconda, is presenting the works of Clayton J. Beck III. There will be an artist's reception, from 2 to 5 p.m., on Sunday, July 16.

It's Lakefrontfest time in Waukegan as Johnny Rivers, winner of 17 gold records, will be performing on the main stage, at 6 p.m., on Aug. 6. He will be preceded on Aug. 5 and 6., at 6 and 7 p.m., by Big Twist and Mellow Fellows.

Storytelling fest, July 30

The Illinois Storytelling Festival will present its sixth annual event in Spring Grove, on Saturday July 29 (noon-midnight) and Sunday, July 30 (11 a.m. - 5 p.m.).

Once again the village park on Main St will come alive with brightly colored tents as storytellers from across America bring their stories, humor, oral tradition and old time music to this scenic McHenry County village.

Throughout the two days the audience can attend a variety of sessions, most of which are held simultaneously in tents on the 30 acre village lawn. There will be a family tent (stories for all ages), a children's tent and an adult tent.

A special feature new this year is a "Liar's Contest" to be held Saturday afternoon at the "Swapping Ground". The "Swapping Ground" is open all weekend for any audience member wishing to tell a story.

On Saturday, during the "Liar's Contest" it will host amateur storytellers interested in swapping their most outrageous tall tales under the big burr oak tree standing on the south grounds of the festival. Prizes will be awarded.

Saturday evening will highlight the popular Ghost Stories 'Till Midnight. A candle lit path through the woods will open onto a moon-washed meadow where tales of the supernatural will abound from 9 p.m. until midnight.

Among the special offerings on Sunday are "spiritual stories" from 11 a.m. to noon and an "Elder's Concert" in the afternoon featuring life-long members of the community who will share oral histories and true-life stories.

Featured storytellers this year include Jay O'Callahan of Marshfield, Mass. Called a "Genius Among Storytellers" by Time magazine gained him recognition as one of America's most sought after storytellers. He will also teach a master class on Saturday morning. This class is designed for the beginning and experienced storyteller alike. Advance registration required (815)648-2039.

For the first time the festival will feature a deaf storyteller telling in sign language with voice interpretation. Bernard Bragg is co-founder of the National Theatre For the Deaf. Currently an artist-in-residence at Gallaudet University in Washington D.C., he has toured some 38 countries as a cultural ambassador for the United States department of state. He will tell his stories in American sign language with voice interpretation by John Basinger.

John Basinger of Middletown, Conn. is an actor recently appearing in the movie, "Children of a Lesser God" as well as a storyteller, director and interpreter for the deaf. In addition to voice interpretation, he will tell some stories of his own.

Milbre Burch of Riverside, Calif. combines movement, voice and a poetic flaire for original characters and language. She has been a featured storyteller at the National Storytelling Festival and has been a favorite at storytelling festivals everywhere.

Larry Johnson of Minneapolis has the dry storytelling wit of his Scandinavian ancestors who settled in Minnesota. He also "plays" a variety of musical instruments including a shoe, water faucet and garden hose. A founding member of the Northlands Storytelling Network, he has been a leader of the storytelling renaissance in the midwest. He has also received international reognition for his work combining storytelling with video.

Maggi Pierce of Fairhaven, Mass. grew up in Belfast, Northern Ireland. She tells the tales, sings the ballads and does the "recitations" of her Irish heritage. She has shared the wit and beauty of her homeland at storytelling and folk venues throughout the world.

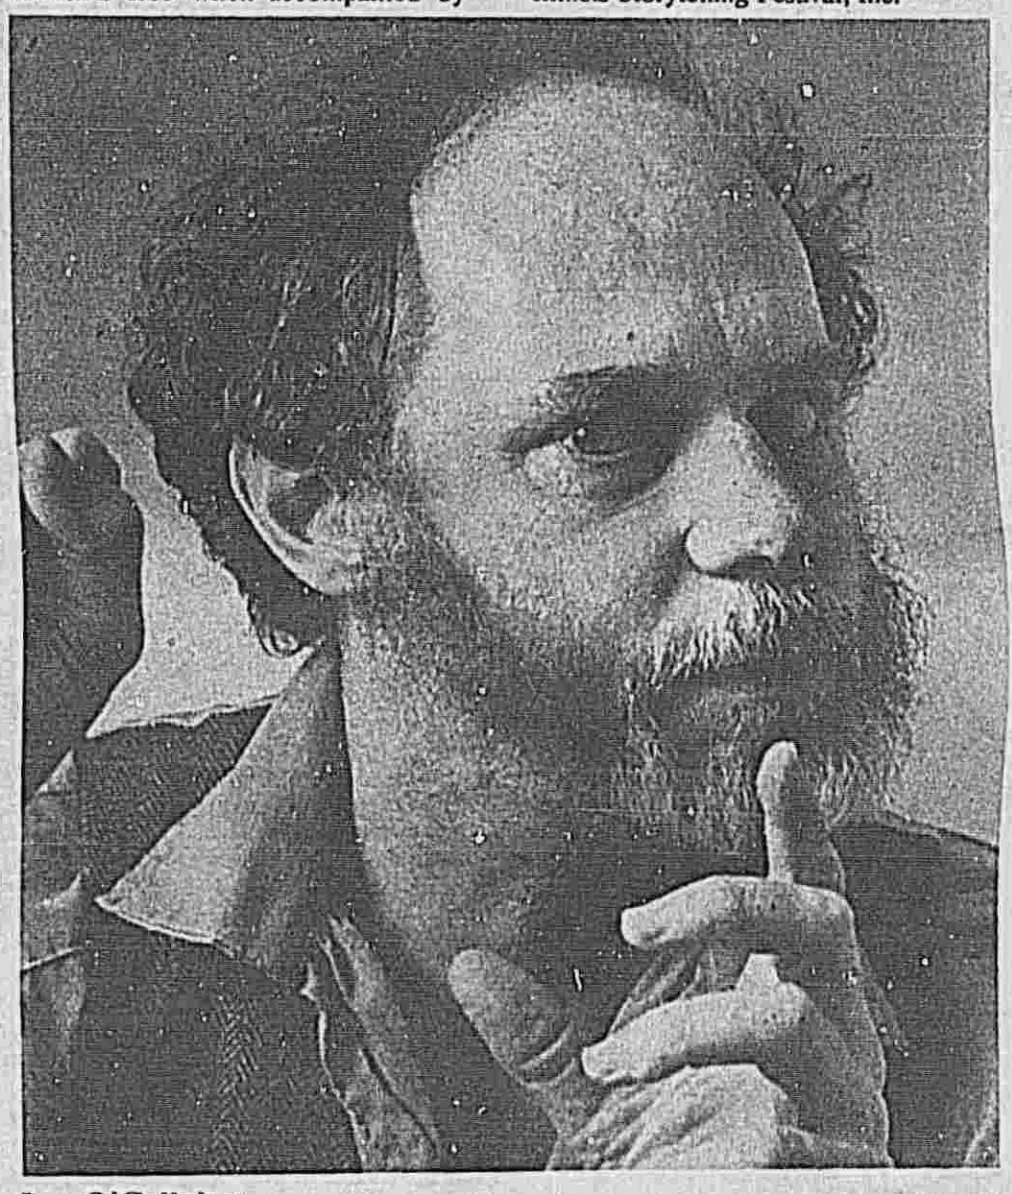

Jim May grew up in Spring Grove. His stories tell of the delights and trails of growing up in a small, rural, Catholic community among horsetraders, farmers and general store philosophers. He is a co-founder of the festival along with his cousin, Bob May.

Festival gates will open to the public at 11 a.m. on Saturday. The gates will be closed at 5:30 p.m. and re-open at 8 p.m. for ghost stories. Sunday gates open at 10 a.m. Admission for each day is $8 for adults. Ghost stories admission for adults is $5. Seniors (65 and older) $5 for each event. Children 14 years old and younger admitted free when accompanied by parents.

Food and soft drinks can be purchased on the grounds. Picnic basket lunches, blankets and lawn chairs are welcome.

Spring Grove is located on Rte. 12, five miles north of Fox Lake in northeastern Illinois - just south of the Wisconsin state line approximately one hour from Chicago and Milwaukee.

The Illinois Storytelling Festival is sponsored by the Illinois Arts Council - a state agency and the National Endowment for the Arts, The Village of Spring Grove, The College of Lake County, The McHenry County Storytellers Guild, Andres Restaurant, The McHenry County Conservation Dist., The Northland Storytelling Network, and E.Z. Go Golf Car. The program is produced by The Illinois Storytelling Festival, Inc.

Ravinia to host rock stars for Crisis Center benefit

On Aug. 11, rock legends from the 1960's will be singing many of their hits from the time more than 20 years ago that many consider to be the golden age of rock music.

The upbeat mellowness of the evening's program, labeled the "60's Flashback," follows a trend that has seen the resurgence of interest in the rich musical sounds and words of the music of the 1960's. For many, the artists will have changed a bit, but not the quality of the music.

The evening at Ravinia Park will begin with a benefit cocktail party hosted by and for the benefit of A Safe Place/Lake County Crisis Center headquartered in Waukegan.

The chairman of the event is Steve McCollum, chief of the Felony Review Division of the Lake County State's Attorney's office and a member of the board of director's of A Safe Place.

Martha Reeves of Martha and the Vandellas, Peter Noone of Herman's Hermits, Gary Puckett of the Union Gap, Mitch Ryder of the Detroit Wheels and Alex Chilton of the Box Tops will be the featured entertainment at the Ravinia benefit for the organization's fight against domestic violence.

The cocktail party will be held in the Archives Room of Ravinia's new Bennett Hall, starting at 6 p.m. It is one of the organization's largest fund raisers for A Safe Place which opened a decade ago and which has served nearly 6,500 Lake County families who have suffered from domestic strife.

Further information can be obtained by calling (312)249-5147.

European elegance

Continental elegance Normandie's motif

by GLORIA DAVIS
Entertainment Editor

If experience in the restaurant business guarantees that a restaurant will be operated correctly, the Normandie Restaurant on Rte. 41 and Delaney Rd., in Gurnee, should rate as one of the best run restaurants in the area because of owner Harry Psychojos' many years as a top restauranteur.

Psyhojos was the proprietor of a restaurant in Skokie from 1966, starting his own business just five short years after he came to the United States from Greece.

Then in 1978 he opened the Normandie.

The elegant European decor of the Normandie invites customers to dine in continental splendor whether on filet mignon or "pigging-out" at Sunday's champagne brunch.

Steve Land and son Gus Psyhojos are in charge of turning out delectable delecacies from the Normandie kitchen, with the Normandie's seafood menu considered to be an outstanding.

Lunches and dinners are served daily for as few as one and as many as 340 hungry customers.

Lunches are in the reasonable price range that goes from $6.50 to $9.95 per person.

Dinner prices range from $11.95 to $39.00 per person. Reservations are preferred, especially on weekends.

On weekdays, the two large diningrooms allow for small banquets to be held in one, while individual customers can dine in the remaining room.

Live entertainment is a running thing in the Normandie's attractive and comfortable lounge.

Customers are served from 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. on weekdays and from 5 a.m. to midnight on Saturdays and brunch is on the Normandie's menu every Sunday, in the lounge, from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m., with the lounge open from 5 p.m. to 3 a.m. on Saturdays, and from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Sundays.

The Normandie is open 365 days a year, closing for no holidays.

Urging airline shopping

by MARY O'BRIEN

It pays to do your homework when you're shopping for air fares. It also pays to choose your airline carefully for comfort and time saving schedules.

We recently went to Ireland and wanting to spend as much time as possible on the dear old sod of our forebears and as little time as possible in the process of getting there, we were surprised to find that Delta flies to Ireland five times a week.

We choose Delta because we were able to leave Chicago in the late afternoon, quickly change planes in Atlanta and land in Dublin the next morning.

The flight home was as painless as a transAtlantic trip can be, for Delta took us out of Shannon where our east to west Irish meandering had taken us, and deposited us comfortably in the U.S.

On the leg home, going through customs in Atlanta meant that when we arrived at O'Hare, we could speed right out of the airport and be in our beds by 10 p.m.

If you fly overseas this summer or fall, call a number of airlines to get the best fare-and the best connections.

50s' revival works

by TOM WITOM

If life in the fast lane has grown a bit tedious, there's a welcome change of pace provided by "The Taffetas" at Chicago's Ivanhoe Theater.

The program, featuring four "sisters" from Muncie, Ind., is billed as a musical journey through the fabulous fifties. It's like a ride in a '57 Chevy through a simpler time in our history, complete with angora sweaters and poddle skirts.

Nostalgia is the star of the show as the "Thirtysomething" singers receive their career break at a Chicago television studio and by hosting the network's "Spotlight on Music" program.

In a gentle satire of the era, the amiable cast recalls the style and sound of the McGuire Sisters, Connie Francis, Patti Page, Patience and Prudence and others.

In medleys, the Taffetas croon "Fly Me to the Moon," "Old Cape Cod," "I'm Sorry," "Johnny Angel," "Shh-Boom," "Mr. Sandman," "Tennessee Waltz" and ahost of other popular '50s numbers. Their flouncy pastel dresses and exaggerated gestures all contribute perfectly to the schmaltziness of the mood.

The Taffetas include Jody Abrahams, one of the original New York cast members, as Donna; Jill Walmsley as the older sister Cheryl; Anne Gunn as Peggy; and shy Paula Scrofano as the outgoing Kaye.

The girls work their way through the cha-cha and bunny hop, not to mention a few hilarious commercials for their sponsor, Galaxy Beauty Products. In one segment, they answer questions from the studio audience (i.e., How far would you go on a first date? Answer: Honey Creek, about 20 miles south of Muncie.)

Fifties revivals are not a new phenomenon. But "The Taffetas" stand out as a well-conceived, polished example of the genre.

CLC goes to theater

For more information, call the CLC Activities Box Office at (312)223-6601, ext. 300.

Rehearsing 'Sound of Music'

Dir. Pat Jamison promises this year's production to be the best ever with a large and talented cast, 30 women in the Abbey choir. A full orchestra will accompany the choir. Many people have returned from past years making the cast a varied and interesting mixture to work with. Show dates are July 21, 22, 23, 28 and 29, with evening performances at 8 p.m. and the matinee at 3 p.m. The play will be presented at Waukegan East High School. Tickets are $8 reserved, $6 general, the matinee $5, available at Waukegan Savings and Loan on Golf Rd. and North Shore Savings on Lewis Ave., in Waukegan.

Farming's been good to Bill McNeill, Round Lake

by BRENT KILLACKEY
Lakeland Newspapers

When does the farm industry have a good year? When it has a big harvest, right?

It sounds right, but a big harvest means the market is flooded and without an increase in demand, the prices drop and leave the farmer with a smaller profit.

On the opposite side of the coin, when the farm industry has a bad harvest, prices skyrocket, but farmers don't have much to put on the market and thus they still make very little money.

But are things really as bad as they seem?

"I really can't complain. Farming has been good to me so far, "said Bill McNeill, 34, a grain farmer in Round Lake.

McNeill said the rough times were several years ago with the draught. He attributed his ability to make it through to a cash reserve he had saved.

What hurt other farmers, McNeill said, was "big mortgage payments".

The McNeill farm is almost entirely paid off with the exception of several pieces of farm equipment.

McNeill owns 58 acres and rents an additional 1250 acres. On that large acreage, corn, beans, oats, wheat, and hay are grown.

Developers have not made any offers for McNeill's land yet, but he has already lost several hundred acres of rented land to developers.

"We need to cut back anyway, "McNeill said.

McNeill estimates that about 40% of the acres are corn, 35% are beans and the rest of the acres are divided among the oats, wheat and hay.

"I'm breaking even, and a lot (of farmers) don't, "McNeill said.

McNeill also raises Clydesdales for show. Unfortunately, the Lake County fair doesn't have a Clydesdales show.

Farming has always been a part of McNeill's life.

"I was born into it, "said McNeill.

The farm has been in the McNeill family since 1907.

There are 5 large grain bins on the property that have a total strorage capacity of 130,000 bushels.

"It's a lot of work, " McNeill said in reference to farming.

Luckily, McNeill gets assistance from neighboring kids when things get busy.

"It's nice to know that there are still neighbors in Lake County who help you out."

Holst's hogs win Blue Ribbons

by BRENT KILLACKEY
Lakeland Newspapers

This little piggy went to market, this little piggy stayed home, this little piggy had roast beef, this little piggy had none, this little piggy went to the Lake County Fair and took the blue ribbon.

And that's exactly what George Holst hogs have been doing for years - winning the blue ribbons.

In fact, Holst has won so many ribbons that he has considered having them sewn into a blanket.

"I've never counted, "Holst said.

What does Holst contribute to his success with showing hogs?

"A lot of hard work and patience, "Holst said. Holst doesn't take all the credit for himself. He admits his nephews and nieces help out quite a bit.

Holst started raising hogs when he was just a boy. He then lived on a farm is PrarieView, Illinois. The first breed of pigs he purchased was Chesterfield Whites, the most common type.

In the fall of 1959, Holst, now running the farm, moved to Trevor, Wisconsin. In 1960, Holst decided to purchase a new breed of hogs, spotted.

On his 204 acre farm, with 70 or 80 acres rented, Holst grows corn, hay, oats and soybeans and raises not only hogs, but geese, chicken and cattle.

Holst still lives in Trevor, but state lines don't stop him from showing his hogs at the Lake County Fair.

Raising a hog and preparing it for a show is a long process that requires a lot of hard work.

Starting from breeding, it is sometimes difficult to get the male hog, called a boar, to fertilize more than one in four female hogs, called sows. This will lead to a small litter.

When the young hogs, called shoats, are born, they immediately start to nurse. They will find one nipple on the underling of the sow and will only nurse on that nipple. Amazingly, the shoats are able to find the nipple each time they nurse.

From here on, the hogs are fed enourmous amounts of food in order to gain weight. It is estimated that for every 100 pounds the hog gains, it takes 400 pounds of food.

On average, a hog will gain 5 pounds a day.

When the hog has gained enough weight to show, the exact number of pounds varies, you have to clean them.

With the spotted breed a simple hosedown will suffice, but Chester Whites require a scrubdown to get their pinkish coats showready.

The hogs are then loaded into trucks and driven to the various fairs.

And just what do the judges look for?

The judges look for a longer, shorter hog, according to Holst.

"They also look for the least amount of backfat, "added Holst.

Breeding classes must also have a good underling with at least 12 nipples.

Holst is also a hog superintendant of the Kenosha fair.

As a superintendant, Holst must check the hogs tags, assign pens, make weight and class checks and make sure the hogs are properly taken care of.

One annual event at the fair that Holst enjoys is the potluck cookout before the judging. All of the hog exibitors get together for cole slaw, cookout, and conversation. And the judge is invited too.

Queen, talent contests American as apple pie

by Joseph Soulak
Lakeland Newspapers

Whatever else the Lake County Fair might be for those attending, it offers some great, homegrown entertainment.

It begins with the Miss Lake County Fair contest on opening night, which this year is Wednesday, July 19. This year the fairest of 18 county blushing beauties between the age of 16 to 21 will vie for the right to reign over the 1989 fair, make dozens of public appearances in the ensuing year and represent Lake County in the state fair queen contest next January.

Then, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, July 20, 21 and 22, it is the talent contest. The junior (up to age 14) and senior (age 15 to 21) winners will join the fair queen in the trip downstate to pick the best in Illinois.

"In looking for Miss Lake County Fair we want a wholesome, active-in-her community entry who can represent us well downstate," said John Lynn of Mundelein, director of the both the queen and talent contests. He said the queen contestant entries have improved each year. "The overall quality seems to get better every year," Lynn said of the educational background, ability and physical appearance of contestants judged in sports clothes, evening gown, swim suit and on a personal interview.

No talent is required in the fair queen contest as it once was because it is not a criteria in the state queen contest.

That is the reason for breaking out the separate talent contest five years ago. Lynn, who is also director of the Mundelein-based amateur theater Kirk Players, saw a winner in having a separate contest for those with talent. The first year 57 individuals and acts signed up. Last year there were 91 and, the year before that, 93. This year he expects about 83 talent entries.

Along with entertaining fair goers, the talent acts get valuable exposure that could lead to discovery. Every person with any type of presence who has appeared before a microphone secretly hopes for stardom, Lynn noted.

Only shortcoming of the talent contest, if it can be called that, is the prize money. Each of 10 finalists in the three categories gets $10 each. The winner gets $100.

Horse is horse, of course even at Lake County Fair

A horse is a horse of course, of course, but if it is entered in any of the Lake County Fair horse shows it can also be a star. Serious horse lovers and admirers are invited to participate in five horse competitions and shows at the fair, which runs July 26 through 30 at Rts. 45 and 120 in Grayslake.

The horse show schedule includes a 4-H Pony and English Horse Show at 8 a.m. on Wednesday; a 4-H Western Horse Show at 8 a.m. on Thursday; a Special Youth Horse Show open to all youth and 4-H club members of any state at 8 a.m. on Friday; an Open Horse Show at 8 a.m. on Saturday; and an Appaloosa Horse Show at 9 a.m. on Sunday.

"The horse shows and competitions have always been a popular attraction at the fair," said Walter Krumrey. "This year there is at least one horse event each day."

Entries for the horse shows are being taken up to the day of the event. The entry fees vary among shows. There is no charge for fair attendees wishing to view the shows above the admission fee.

Admission to the fairgrounds is $4 per day. Children 12 and under are admitted free. Senior citizens are admitted to the fair for $2 Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. A season pass can be purchased for $10.

THIS WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

BY SALOME

Weekly Tip: Problem-solving is favorable when the ability to recall events is working.

Aries (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Plan your time carefully. Review all options before making a drastic move. Respond to the needs of family members. Think before reacting.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20) A lazy week can get you behind in your work. Unless you want to play catch-up, it will be advantageous to take care of the fundamentals first.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) A lighter, more confident mood and an opportunity for advancement are welcomed. A small gift can give someone a much-needed emotional lift.

Cancer (June 22 to Jul. 21) Maintain your composure if others are not on the same wavelength. Solve an emotional issue by sharing your feelings. Be confident and sure.

Leo (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) Deadlines can cause pressure. It may be necessary to seek outside help. A favorable climate exists for masking lucrative property transactions.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) The best investment is in yourself. Build a framework for self-expansion now. Make a commitment to improve your life, and stick to it.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Someone will find out you have a strong shoulder on which he can lean. Money involved in a long-delayed matter will resolve a conflict.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Forget inhibitions and indulge yourself in romance. Bonds of restriction can be broken. A secret may be hard to keep. Siblings provide support.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Parenting may work best if you see things from your child's point of view. Loving may work better than pushing. Act with a kind heart.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Some strong issues face you. Keep to your own ideals and listen to your heart. Plan your strategies very carefully. Enjoy a gourmet treat.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Know your limits. Stellar influences may be teasing you to take on more than you can handle. Domestic issues are stimulating and refreshing.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Discuss your desires with loved ones. Communicate when others need an explanation of your feelings, concerns, and expectations. Be precise.

If You Were Born This Week
You can be solid, cautious, attracted towards seeking enlightenment, intuitive, and a leader. Pessimism can set in from time to time when your mind and emotions are at cross purposes. Always a family person, you work best when the balance between home and work is slightly off, keeping you on your toes.

Cobb saves best effort for last

By STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

"It was a nice way to end it," Warren Twp. High School graduate Crystal Cobb said.

Cobb was speaking as the rest of the North Shore Scholastic women's team was busily celebrating a come-from-behind gold medal win at the Prairie State Games (PSG) in Champaign.

This warm Sunday afternoon, Cobb saved one of her best pre-collegiate performances for last. She was the second-leading scorer with 15 points in the 73-71 thriller over Blue Gray at Parkland Junior College.

Cobb had earlier scored seven, four and 10 points in three games.

It was Cobb, sporting her Arizona State University shorts, who started a North Shore rally at the end of the first half that allowed the Gators a chance to start thinking about a comeback. Cobb, who scored eight second-half points, started the scoring with a hoop that made it 42-33 Blue Gray.

But things looked bleak for the North Shore squad as it trailed by 12 points with just over 10 minutes left. It looked like Gators Coach Frank Mattucci would have to settle for his second silver medal.

"I told Crystal and Heather (Donlan, North Shore's other guard) not to give up the faith, to keep shooting," Mattucci said.

But even Cobb, Donlan's and Patricia Andrew's efforts could not sway Coach Frank Mattucci from marveling at the team's defense. "Defense is what won us the gold medal. We gave up 46, 54, 70 and 71 points in 40-minute games and a shot clock," Mattucci said.

Indeed, it is defense at all levels of basketball, with the possible exception of the NBA all-star game, that usually decides matters. And it was Debbie Benson, a junior on Mattucci's Luther North team, who came up with the key steal and led to her layup which led to a 71-68 lead with 47 seconds left.

It was Benson, whose assignment it was to shut down Blue Gray guard Courtney Porter, and she did.

Carrie Ramenofsky, a New Trier graduate who had 11 points, had just scored three of those on a tough baseline jumper and a free throw to tie the game at 68-all.

Mattucci, who coached North Chicago High's baseball team this spring, has been a fixture on the sidelines for North Shore for all six years of the Prairie State games. The first two were as an assistant and the next four as head coach. The Luther North girls basketball coach knew this would be his last in the PSG.

"We had some real contributors. This was a 10-person team that saved us today," Mattucci said.

Mattucci said the star-studded lineup emphasized defense during five exhibitions held prior to coming to Champaign.

"We told them if we played consistent defense, then we had a shot for the gold medal," Mattucci said.

But there was something more to be accomplished as well.

"The most important thing is the girls had fun," the coach said.

In the first game of the tournament, the fun began for Cobb on defense when a steal helped North Shore gain a 10-point first-half lead on Willco. Cobb contributed a free throw as the team pulled away in the second half toward a 73-57 win.

Cobb injured an ankle in the second game against Pioneer but still managed to finish with four points in an 84-46 romp.

Gold medalists

The North Shore women's scholastic soccer team won its fifth straight gold medal with a 1-0 win over Pioneer region Sunday. Team competing in Prairie State Games featured four Libertyville area residents. They included Allison Marquart, Kim Cooper and Kim Marshall. Marquart and Seymour were all-state performers and it was their second gold medal.

One goal enough for North Shore

After scoring some 128 goals in five years of Prairie State Games contests, one may expect that the North Shore Girls Scholastic soccer team would be prepared for a high-scoring contest in the championship match against Pioneer region Sunday.

And when Katie Dusik scored a goal in the opening quarter, it looked like that scoring machine was about to be switched to full blast.

But the team, which includes a four-member Libertyville contingent, did not score a goal after that. Goalie Mary Froech answered the Pioneer charge, even after being hit hard during a Pioneer rush in the fourth quarter.

"This was a very, very good team. They made us work for it," North Shore Coach Don Wilhelm said.

The veteran mentor knew the North Shore team would have a good chance to raise its number of gold medals to five and its overall record to 18 straight victories going into the tourney.

"They had good forwards. They passed a lot," Dusik said.

Dusik is headed for St. Louis University, but she will not be continuing her sport, as soccer will be regulated to club play.

Libertyville's Allison Marquart and Jori Seymour have plenty of soccer ahead of them as they will be juniors next fall. For both, this is the second gold medal.

"Some teams are a little tougher," Seymour said in comparing the Prairie State teams with the North Suburban Conference.

Seymour helped stop several close shots on defense while Marquart challenged the foes' goalie in the second half.

Kim Cooper and Kim Marshall were Wildcats on the North Shore team.

North Shore opened the tournament with a 10-0 romp over Blue Gray.

While there were four Libertyville representatives on the women's scholastic team, the North Shore men's team included Steve Lamarre of Wauconda.

Seniors hope Prairie State Games provides smooth transition to college

When Nathan Sweet and Mike Frecking recall their Illinois State University sports careers, they may say they actually began not in Normal but a few miles west in Champaign.

For the Prairie State Games (PSG) competition not only proved to be a gold medal winning trip for the two athletes, but one which could bridge that all-important gap between being a star in high school and just another athlete on the collegiate scene.

Frecking won the top honors in the 165 pound weight class while Sweet won the gold medal in the 800 meter run.

"It's a step up," Warren wrestling Coach Mark Tiffany said of the Prairie State Games.

This was Frecking's second trip to the Prairie State competition. Last year he made the North Shore team after an injury to a Libertyville wrestler. This year he qualified on his own.

Frecking, who finished second in the state tournament last winter at 152 pounds, opened the tourney with an 8-0 win over Lane Murray of Willco. He later downed Brett Gewer of Willco in a fall in 3:55.

While Sweet and Frecking's performances highlighted the efforts of Lake County athletes at Prairie State, for others the sixth annual games in Champaign were most definitely a learning experience.

"All the players are good," Warren grad Crystal Cobb said.

Cobb, who went on to score 15 points in the 73-71 gold medal basketball win over Blue Gray for North Shore, started all three games for the Gators, but learned some unfamiliar words during her stay: bench time.

"You can try things new and find out what you can and cannot do," Cobb, a Wadsworth resident, said.

Cobb, who opened the Prairie State Games with seven points in a 73-57 win over Willco, found the games a chance to work on passing and defense.

Wearing No. 1, Cobb showed she could still score a critical free throw when the game was on the line. She hit one of two tries with four seconds left which allowed North Shore to hold onto a 77-70 win over Southern in the semi-finals.

-For Todd Adams, the hoops contests were more for learning than scoring.

Headed to Eastern Illinois University, Adams scored 12 points in a loss to Windy City but watched from the bench for the most part the next two games.

"I enjoyed it. You get to play against some of the 80 best players in the state," Adams, an all-North Suburban Conference player at Libertyville, said.

Some notes after the first trip to the PSG:

-North Chicago graduate Jarrod Coleman had two strong games for North Shore in the basketball tourney. He scored 21 points in a 93-88 win over West Central and 23 points in a 115-99 loss to Southern in the first two games. Coleman will be a captain next year for the ISU Redbirds.

-The area fared well in the bowling portion of the games held earlier in Northlake. Jim Servis of Great Lakes won the silver medal in the adult men's single competition with a 624 score for three-game scratch total at Town & Country Bowl. Matt Erickson of Mundelein won the gold medal with a 588 score in the major boys division for age 15-17. John Lee of Grayslake and Ron Kator of DesPlaines tied at 1,182 for the gold medal in the junior boys division.

-In men's gymnastics, Mundelein High proved it probably will have another strong season following its state title. T. J. Dortch won the rings with an 8.9, the parallel bars with an 8.8 and the high bar with an 8.2. Jeff Turnbull was fourth in the rings with a 7.3. And Coach Doug Foerch won the all-around for the open men's division with a score of 51.95.

-McHenry County was represented on the Blackhawk open mens basketball team by former Woodstock star Dan Hill.

Thunder soccer squad garners tourney title

The Libertyville girls under 12 team took first place in the Notre Dame Irish Invitational tournament in South Bend, Ind.

In winning the title the girls compiled a 5-0 record, defeating teams from five different states.

The Thunder defeated Edgewood, Ohio 5-2 as Jessica Moorman scored four goals and assisted on a fifth by Claudia Zajicek. Amanda Paraszczak played flawless in goal in the second half and made three crucial saves when the score was tied 2-2.

Later that day the Thunder defeated St. Joseph, Mich. 2-0. Both goals were scored by left winger Moorman. Defensive stalwarts fullbacks Kelly Fabri and Kristy Noonan, and the shutout was recorded by goalies Lisa Eardley and Paraszczak.

The Libertyville team then gained the finals by defeating the host South Bend squad 5-1 and finishing with a 5-0 win over Peoria. Goal scores were Susie Obsihoutch (two), Jenny Randolph, Zajicek and Moorman in the first game. Moorman got her second hat trick in the second game, followed by four tallies by Lisa Sayers.

The final game against Meyoun, Wis. was a classic. Trailing 1-0, the Thunder struck three times off of free kicks. First, on an indirect kick from 18 yards away, Sarah Schmidt touched-passed to Zajicek who drilled the shot just into the right corner. Minutes later, Zajicek drove a corner high into the goal area where Moorman headed the ball high into the net. Zajicek scored directly off a corner kick for a 3-1 lead at halftime for Libertyville.

With less than 15 minutes left, the Meyuon team scored on a corner kick play, and tied the game with less than five minutes left on a 20-yard free kick. Regulation ended with both teams deadlocked at 3-3.

Wildcat kickers win

The Junior Wildcats traveling girls soccer team won its division in a tournament played at South Bend, Ind.

The under 14-year-old squad finished the tournament at Notre Dame University with a 2-0-1 record, but lost in the semi-final round.

The team was represented by Adrian Adams, Kristin Bachochin, Becky Baumann, Melissa Kaan, Alisa Kapchinski, Kristine Konen, Renee Lavista, Samathan Leahy, Kathy Oboilowitch, Nancy Ostdick, Sandra Plaza, Ashley Rafiner and Jill Witsoe. The team was coached by Joe Bernstein and Ed Moore.

Junior Wildcats beat Crown Point Express in the first game 5-0. Libertyville dominated the game with excellent teamwork and ball control. The second game was won over a Portage, Mich. team 2-0. The third game resulted in a 1-1 tie against Penney's of South Bend.

In the semi-final team, Libertyville was dominated by a tough Omaha, Nebraska team. Libertyville played close in the first half, trailing 2-0 at halftime.

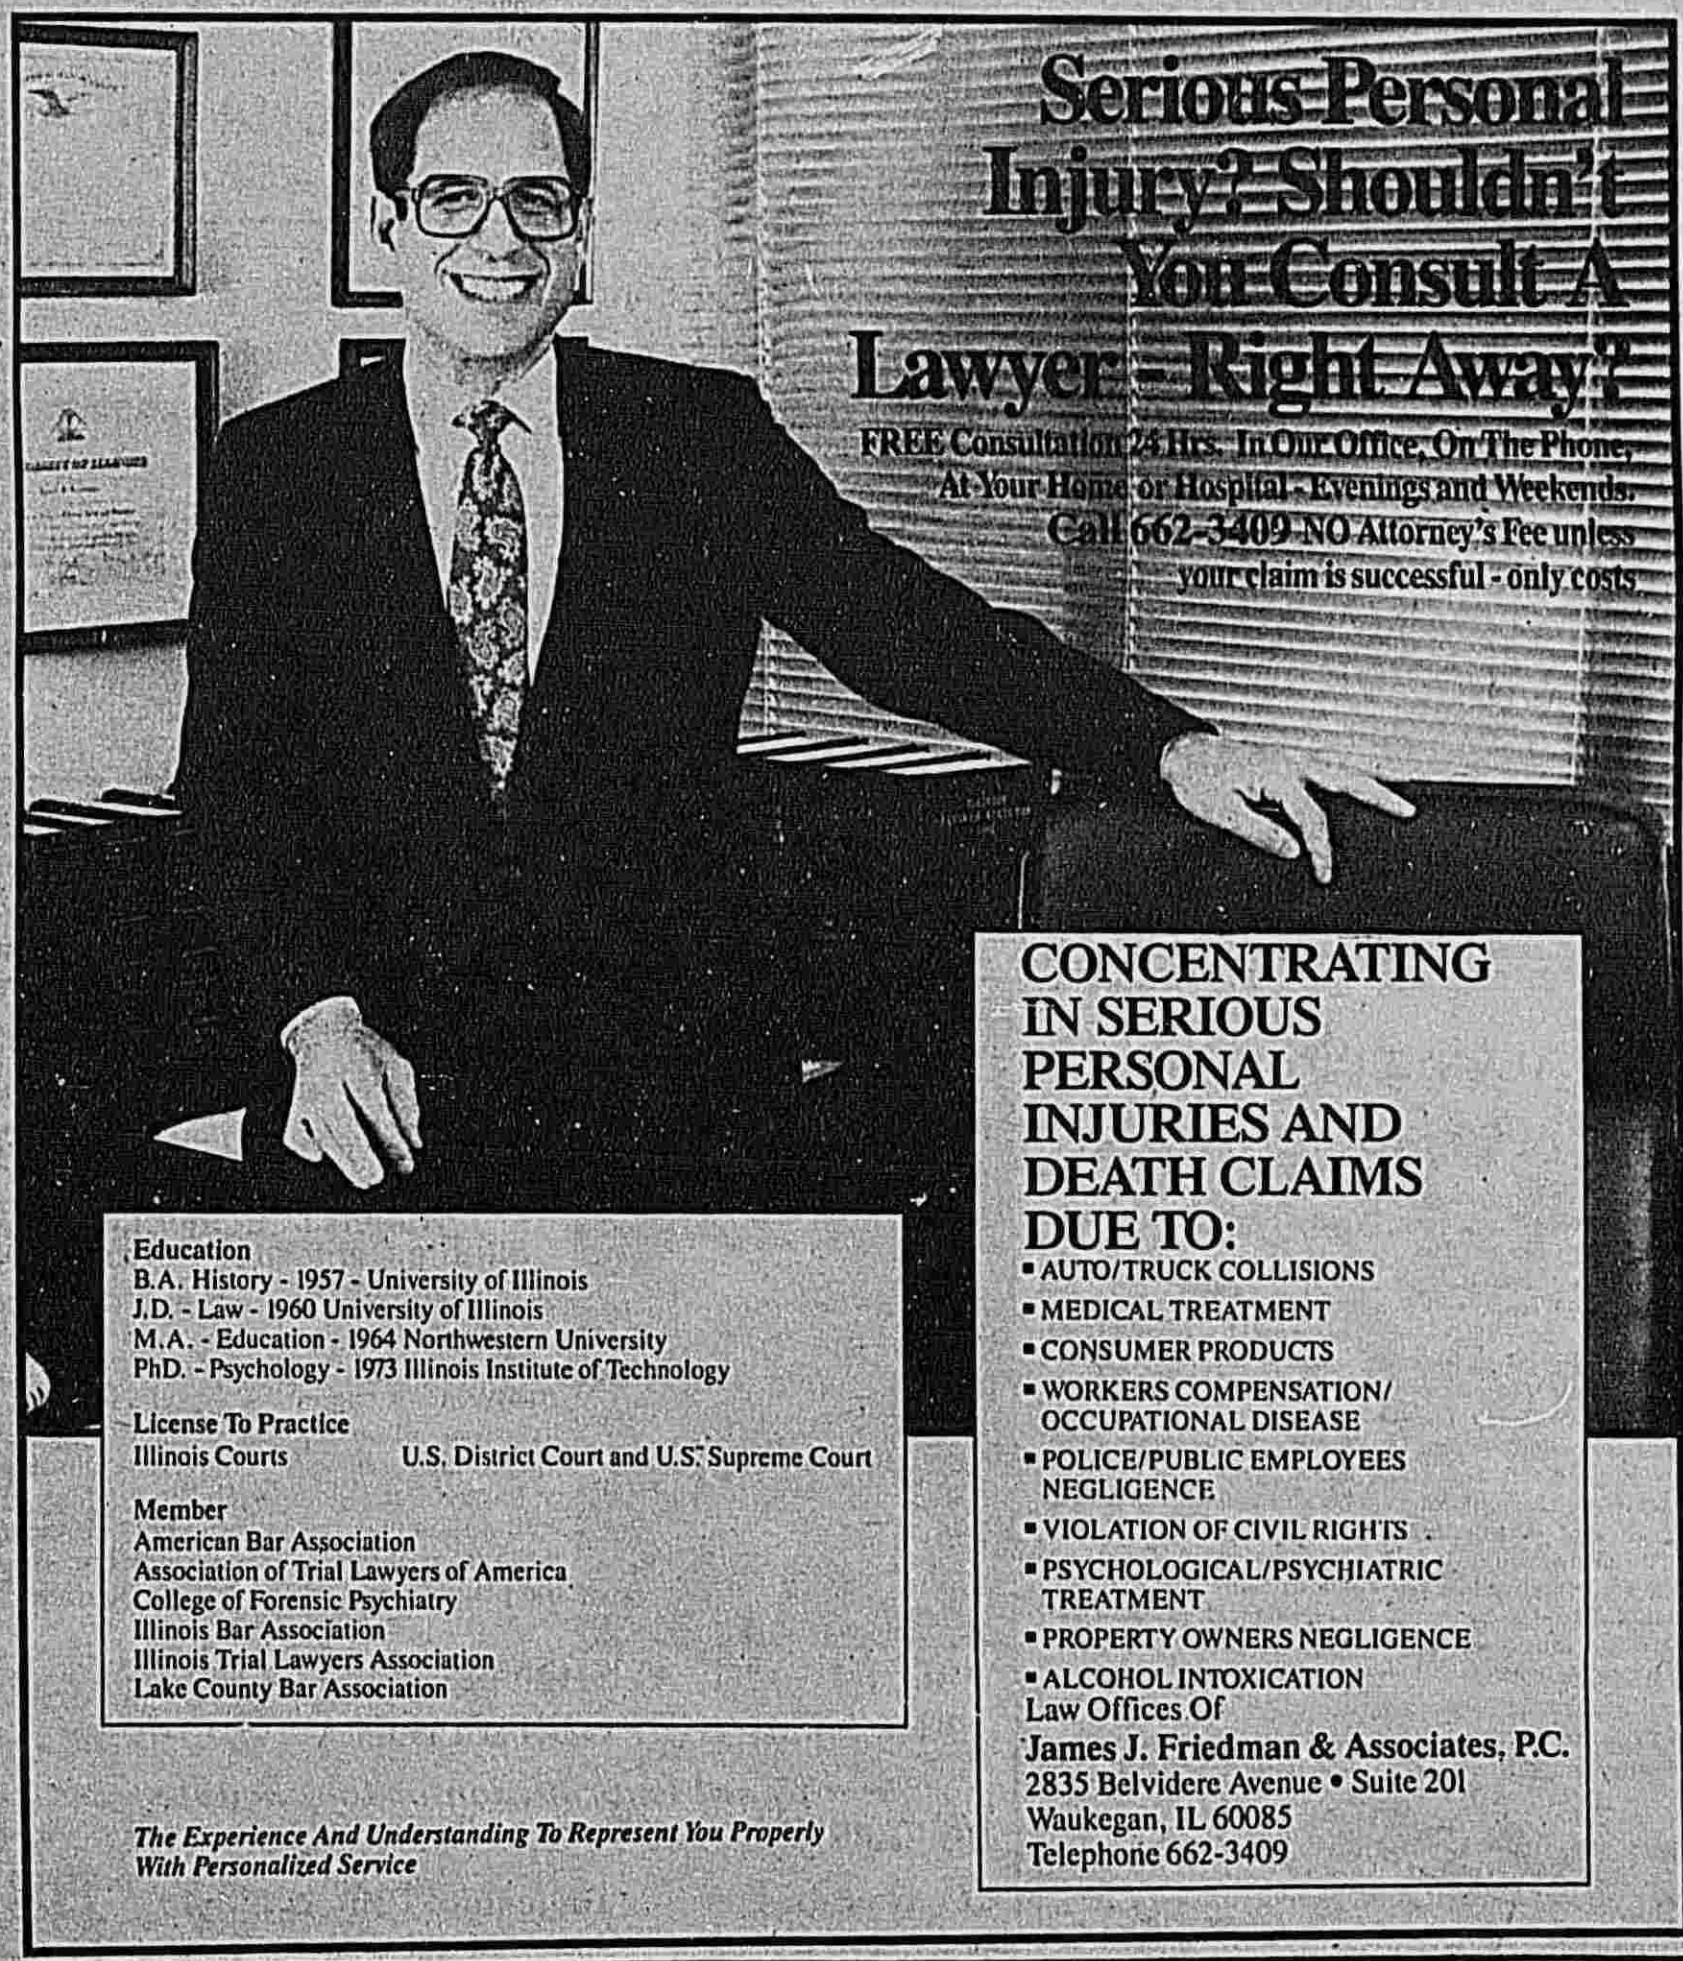

Lake Zurich advances

Lake Zuirich's American Legion baseball team used a strong start and finish to the first round of the Dist. 10 tournament in advancing to the tourney's final four.

Lake Zurich, 12-8, will play second seed Barrington July 21 at Bowen Park in Waukegan. The game will be the second contest of the night, as Vernon battles Barrington in the 6 p.m. game. Winners will clash for the Dist. 10 title July 23 at 1 p.m.

Lake Zurich opened the tournament with a 4-4 tie which was called because of darkness against Vernon. Both teams scored two runs in the second and third innings.

The next day, Lake Zurich won the game on an eighth inning rally.

Dodge, sharp bats lead Libertyville to finals

By BRENT KILLACKEY
Lakeland Newspapers

Left-hander Brad Dodge was able to pull Libertyville into a 5-1 over Mundelein in American Legion baseball Dist. 10 action.

The win, coupled with a 14-4 Libertyville win over Lake Forest the next day, propelled Libertyville into a final four spot in the Dist. 10 tourney at Bowen Park in Waukegan. Libertyville battles Lake Zurich in an 8:30 p.m. game July 21. Vernon faces Barrington in the 6 p.m. game with the winners advancing to the final July 23 at 1 p.m.

"Mundelein impressed me. All and all I don't think we've played up to our potential. We hit the ball, but it just didn't drop where we wanted it to drop," Libertyville (16-2) Coach Chris Garrison said.

Things did not look good for Libertyville when Pat Halverson blasted a curve ball over the left-field fence in the second inning. That ended Dodge's scoreless string at 27.

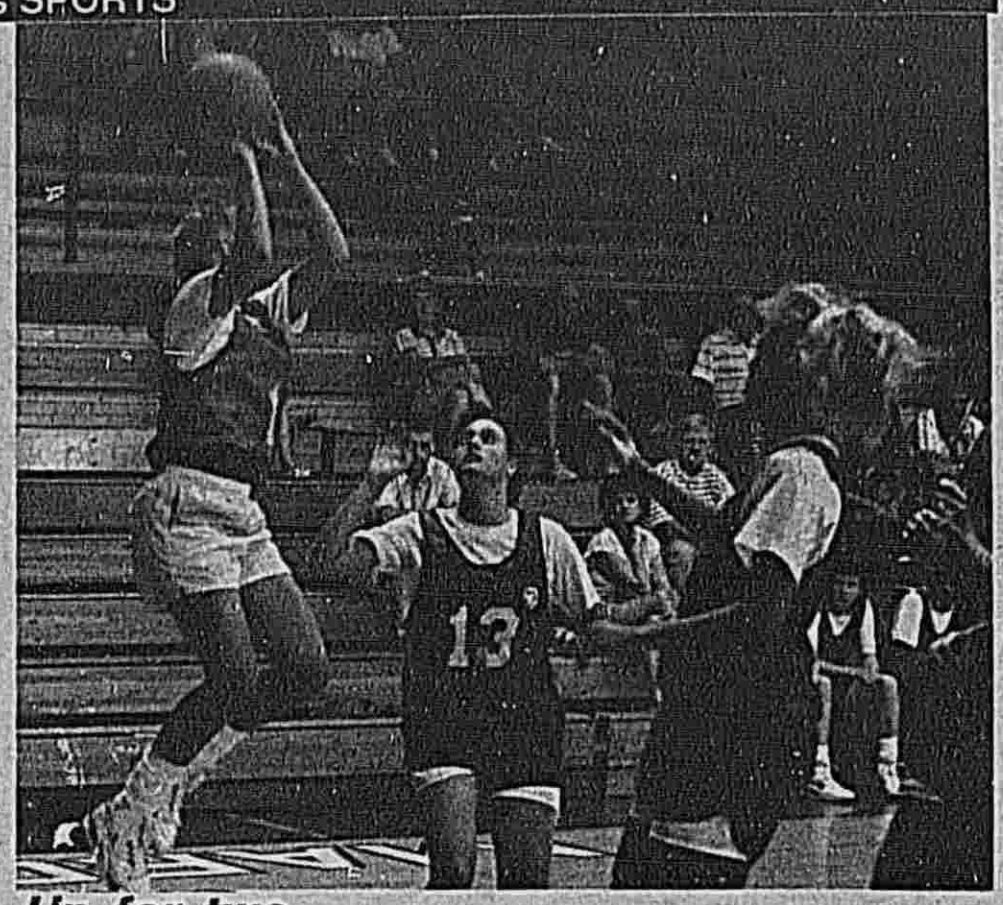

But in the top of the third, Libertyille came right back with men on first and second and Denny Ryan hit a double off Mundelein pitcher Jim Cooney down the left field line, driving in Rob Garofolo and Andy Forgione.

Mundelein put the pressure back on again in the fourth when Halverson hit a triple with two outs to right field. An easy ground out ended the inning.

In the top of the fifth, Libertyville extended the lead when Bart Nielsen hit an RBI single driving in Garofolo who advanced to second on an overthrow at first.

Libertyville's Dodge, who also pitches for the College of Lake County, except for the home run, was able to paralyze Mundelein and held the visitors to six hits in the shutout.

The home team put the icing on the cake by scoring two more runs in the seventh inning when John Shanholtzer and Chris Walsh doubled and Garofolo singled.

QUESTION: Would you please explain to me what a cataract actually is?

ANSWER: A cataract is a clouding of the normally clear lens of the eye. This clouding, a natural aging of the lens in most cases, prevents light from passing through the lens to the back of the eye, or retina. Much like the lens of your camera focuses light on the film, the lens of your eye focuses light on the retina. If the front of your camera's lens becomes dirty or fogged, then the picture taken will be hazy or blurred.

Helping parents properly and should gain 45 pounds while pregnant, although Green said many doctors disagree on his opinion because of the risk of toxemia associated with fast weight gain.

McGanity also told that group that two out of 10 teenagers are keeping their babies. He said the percentage rate for a second pregnancy is very high because the mothers have nothing else to do but to spend time with the baby and the father. As a result, McGanity believes it is very important for teenagers to be taught how difficult parenting is as a deterrent to keep them from wanting a child of their own until they are mature enough to handle one.

Sol Gordon, a clinical psychologist and author of the best-sellers Raising a Child Conservatively in a Sexually Permissive World, The Teenage Survival Book, and Seduction Lines Heard 'Round the World,' told the crowd that parents do a lousy job of informing their children about sex. He said they talk in generalities and don't deal with reality. One of his comments that got a laugh out of the audience was that girls should be taught how to get out of a situation they aren't comfortable with. For example, he said they should say, 'I think I hear my mother coming,' when a boy is going too far.

Gordon also stressed that the expense to parents of the teens with babies and to taxpayers is very high. In addition, he said the education of the teens is interrupted, thus damaging their power to support themselves for the rest of their life. Gordon said if the problem continues to grow, governments won't be able to finance the young families.

Michael A. Carrera, a recognized authority on teen pregnancy prevention programs, also spoke. Carrera established a teenage prevention program in New York City's Harlem where approximately one in every three girls becomes pregnant by the age of 18. After two years, there was only one pregnancy in a group of 75 girls.

Green said that the Univ. of Ill. Cooperative Extension Service hopes to first be able to reach the teens it currently is not working with. The service is planning to open a office on Genessee St. in Waukegan for that purpose. This new office will begin by offering 4-H, but the idea later will be to add a one-on-one program for young parents.

Green said she, as well as the many other people participating in the conference, believe that the problems of teens are not adequately addressed. She said there is much more stress put on adolescents today and that they need more help in dealing with it.

"I think we're going to hear more and more people jumping on the bandwagon," Green said.

Expect DNR to deny Pleasant Prairie pond

The Wis. Dept. of Natural Resources has received an application to allow construction of an "agricultural/wildlife" pond near Tobin Creek on the Chiwaukee Prairie - Carol Beach Area in the Town of Pleasant Prairie, Kenosha County.

The proposed five-acre pond, to be known as Sand Lake, would be connected by an overflow culvert to Tobin Creek. The purpose of the pond is initially for agricultural irrigation and wildlife use. Future plan include the development of a residential subdivision near the pond.

The pond would be located adjacent to and partially within an 18 acre wetland area approximately 140 feet from Tobin Creek. The wetland are is zoned as a conservancy area by Kenosha County and is classified as a medium value wildlife area.

Dune reed grass, a plant species listed as threatened by both the department and the federal government is located in the proposed pond area.

Potential adverse environmental impacts that would be associated with pond construction include wetland and wildlife habitat loss, destruction of one or more endangered plant species, erosion into Tobin Creek as the result of increased flows and construction activities and possible wetland drainage due to pond excavation in an area of high groundwater. Based on these adverse impacts the department is likely to deny the application.

The department has completed an environmental assessment for this action and has made a preliminary determination that an Environmental Impact Statement will not be required.

Copies of the environmental assessment that led to this preliminary determination can be reviewed at the department's Southeast District Office, located at 2300 N. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Dr.

Contact Kathi Kramasz, Wis. Dept. of Natural Resources, P.O. Box 12436, Milwaukee, WI 53212 (414)562-9672. The assessment can also be reviewed at the department's Bong Recreational Area Office located at 26313 Burlington Rd., Kansasville, WI 53139.

Villages receive grants

Three communities in the 31st Dist. will receive increased grants through the state's program for wastewater compliance projects required by the federal clean water act, according to State Sen. Adeline J. Geo-Karis (R-Zion).

Sen. Geo-Karis said Fox Lake now qualifies for up to $12.9 million, Lake Villa could receive as much as $388,500, and Antioch will get up to $1.83 million.

"These communities were among 226 cities for which a total of $300 million was appropriated last year to assist with wastewater compliance projects," Sen. Geo-Karis said. "This year, an additional $158 million was authorized to cover 35 more communities and to allow for increased costs of the original projects. This new appropriation, which is from Build Illinois bond funds, will allow these important projects to be carried out according to schedule."

Grayslake EDC group hears cultural center plans

Plans for a proposed cultural center received a vote of confidence from the Grayslake Economic Development Commission.

"This is directly involved with economic development," EDC Chairman Phil Harris said.

Ed Surroz of the Grayslake Development Corp. (GDC) showed EDC members an aerial photograph and explained plans for the cultural center. The center would be located on 10 acres at the Lake County Forest Preserve's Brae Loch Country Club.

"We want this to be a county-wide project," Surroz said.

The GDC is presently collecting some 10,000 signatures of Lake County residents who support the cultural center. The golf committee of the county board gave the GDC six months to garner the required signatures. Surroz said this is also important for when the GDC, which is spearheading the cultural center idea along with the Lake County Arts Council. He said the group is running into some resistance in eastern Lake County.

Surroz said the county would still own the land.

"We can't see any reason for the Lake County Board not to give us permission," Surroz said.

BUNIONS
Bunions are a progressive deformity, that begins with a mild bump at the base of the big toe. If left untreated the big toe deviates outward and destructive arthritic changes occur. If treated early, surgery may not be needed. If surgery is indicated it is not a disabling procedure. I utilize the Swiss Compression technique which prevents cast wear and the patient may walk that same day. Other advantages to this procedure are that surgery is performed on an outpatient basis and little or no time is missed from work.

Disney-MGM Studios, the latest addition to Walt's mega-park

by JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT
NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

Did you ever want to see how a movie was made? On your next trip to Disney World, you can do just that.

Now, we're not talking about just any kind of movie. How about a Disney spectacular with all the dazzling costumes and special effects?

Let's take a peek at the costuming department at the just opened Disney-MGM studio in Orlando. In true Disney fashion, we have over two million costumes in an 18,000-square-foot department! The original costumes from "Mary Poppins" and "Roger Rabbit" are also on display.

But let's get to the real fun of a studio tour. The special effects.

You are invited to tour "Catastrophe Canyon." The action starts with an earthquake. But that's just the beginning! See that tractor-trailer rig parked off to the side filling it's tanks with oil? Bad idea in an earthquake! Soon the earthquake causes the electric poles to shake. Oh, no, sparks everywhere! It's starting to rain. Great, that puts out the fire. But the rain is getting stronger. Look out, a flash flood!

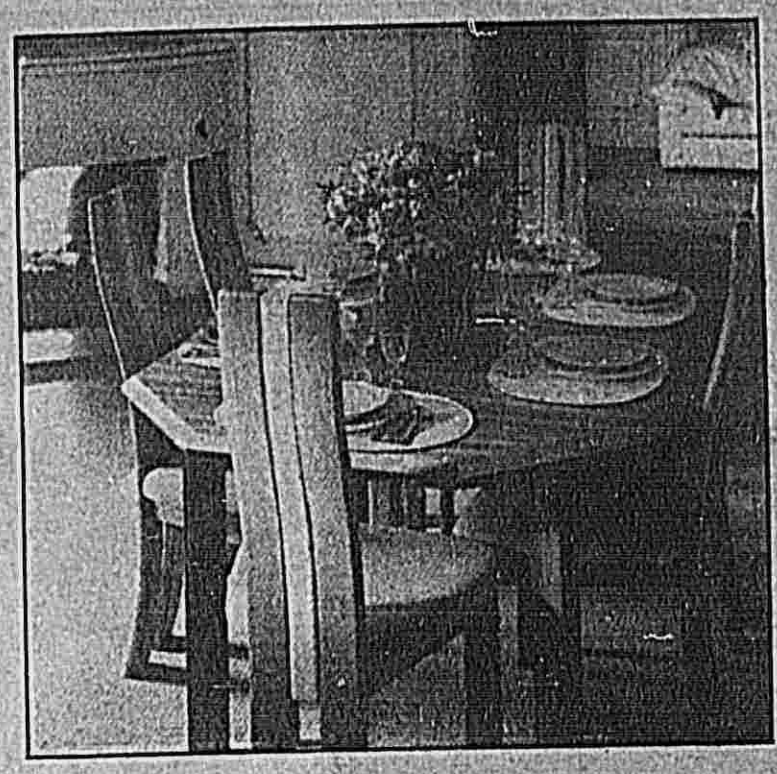

Another thrill for the kids is a chance to be filmed "flying" on the back of a giant bee, thanks to the magic of something called "blue-screen" process. You will see a big-screen sea battle and ocean storms, all done with a flotilla of miniature ships in water effects tanks. You'll get the chance to peek over the shoulders of Disney animators and see Disney's most celebrated characters spring to life before your eyes.

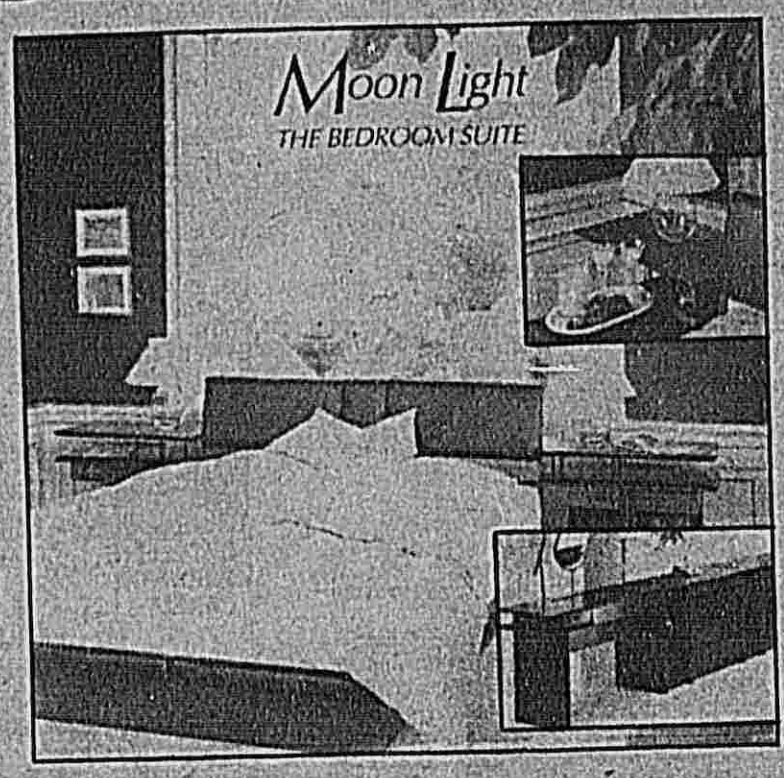

Then it's time for a stroll down Hollywood Boulevard. You may find yourself being mistaken for a glamorous starlet by some autograph hound. A talent scout may audition you for a leading role. It all can happen on the street of dreams!

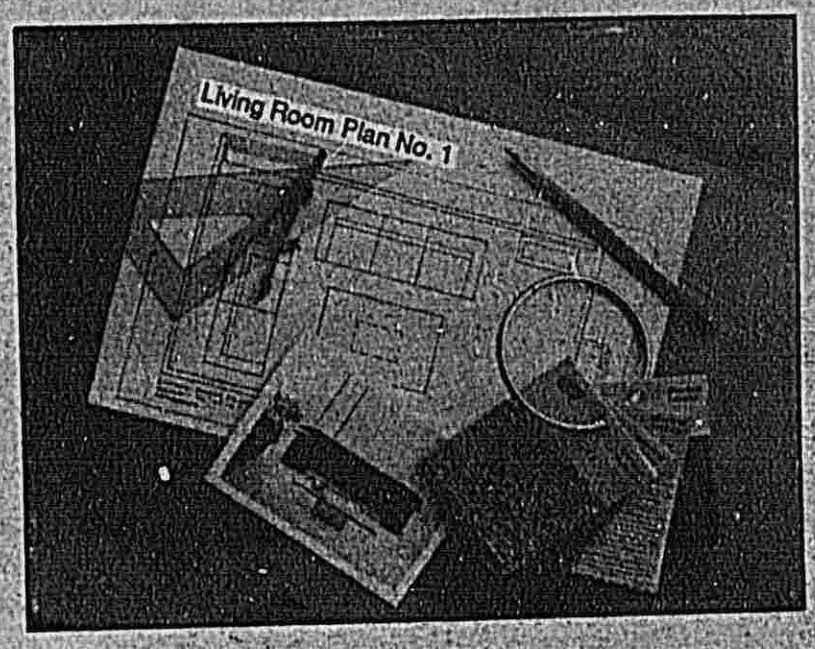

So, pack up the kids—it's time for another trip to Disney World in Orlando.
